Sign up now!

Step aerobics is a form of exercise that involves stepping up and down onto a stationary block. This is a low/high-intensity exercise that combines cardio with weight training to provide for a great workout

Benefit #1: Cardiovascular Health

One of the things which step aerobics is best for is your cardiovascular health. Research has shown that engaging in about 1 hour of step aerobics is roughly equal to running a few miles.

Benefit #2: Step Aerobics is Low & High Impact

One convenient thing about step aerobics is that it can actually come in the form of both a high impact and low impact exercise. You can engage in moderate step aerobics which is classified as low impact or you can step things up, make your routine more intense, and turn your step aerobics routine into a high impact affair.

The choice here is yours to make and whether you want to engage in low or high impact exercises depends on your own health and fitness level. Thanks to the nature of step aerobics it can be both of those things. You should be aware that the high impact version will help you burn more calories as opposed to the low impact version, however depending on your health it may be better for your bones.

Benefit #3: Step Aerobics Is Versatile

The final benefit of step aerobics that we want to talk about has to do with the fact that it is very versatile. First of all, people of all fitness levels can engage in step aerobics because it can easily be modified. Beginners can go slow and not have the stepping level up too high or fitness experts can go full speed and elevate the stepping platform as high as possible.

What is Couch to 5k? Simply it's a training program to get beginning walkers and runners ready to complete a 5km (3.1 miles) walk/run. This program is geared to help you build your endurance, stamina, and cardiovascular health. This program will act as a guide on how to train for your 5k and is meant for beginner 5k walkers/runners. That being said it will be up to you to put in the work to reach your goals.

This prep class will provide you with the resources you need to participate and finish the Silver Soles 5k. The Silver Soles 5k prep program is based off the Couch to 5k model that will include your weekly workouts and instruct you on how to build your walking distance, speed, and power. On top of your own workouts, the Silver Soles 5k Prep will meet once a week at the Oshkosh Seniors Center South Building to do a workout where you will be able to familiarize yourself with the course and socialize with other fitness enthusiasts.

Participants should meet in the South Building Great Room, wear light, breathable and comfortable clothing, and a good pair of running/walking shoes!

Participants should also bring a refillable bottle of water and appropriate sun protection!

The first day of class participants will be given their mileage sheets where they can track their progress. These sheets include the recommended workouts for each given week. Participants will receive a FREE cooling towel to be used during their exercise!

All walking will take place on the Oshkosh riverwalk near the Oshkosh Seniors Center. This terrain is primarily flat with a few small hills and plenty of areas to rest and recover if needed.

Alec's Habits for Healthy People

Healthy Habits are a game changer when it comes to taking control of your health. No matter where you are in your wellness journey the end goal is to be as healthy as possible for as long as possible. Below are habits of healthy people of all ages.

#1 Consume high quality foods

You've heard it before and you'll hear it again. "You are what you eat." It's extremely important to have a proper nutritious diet that's rich in vitamins and minerals. The easiest way to get these is by eating a colorful diet of fruit, vegetables, high quality proteins, and healthy fats. It's also important to track what you eat; this will help you understand what you're eating, any eating patterns you have, and where you can improve your diet. Check out "A Healthier You" for more nutrition information.

#2 Get screened often & by the right provider

It's not fun to admit that our bodies change and often times not for the better. But luckily we can do something about it. We can get screened for our ailments and do it often. It's much easier to take care of a disease, disorder, injury, or other issues EARLY ON. The Worst thing that you can do is ignore an issue or pretend the issues will resolve itself. Keep in contact with your primary care Doctor but also realize that they are not the best fit for every situation. If you think you have a soft tissue injury seek a physical therapist, if you're having problems with medications talk with your pharmacist, joint issues talk to an orthopedist, hearing problems talk to an audiologist, and so forth.

#3 Exercise

The human body is meant to move and be active. Sorry to say that leading a sedentary lifestyle is not healthy at any age. It's important that we have structured physical activities in our lives. The newest recommendations suggest that people weight train 3x per week for at least 30-45min and do cardio at least 2x per week for 30-45min. That's a total of 150 minutes of structured physical activity per week.

No matter how many stories you've heard about the ship, you are guaranteed to learn new things. From the builders of the ship cutting corners to save money, to the crew not being equipped to perform their duties, the errors all culminated into a tragic voyage of the "unsinkable" ship. Sara's Savory Samplings

Anyone who knows me is aware that I like to cook, but baking; not so much! Making a galette is just a free form pie—now THAT I can handle. This recipe uses the shortcut of a store-bought crust, but you can certainly make your own. The basil seems out of place, but is an amazing flavor combination with the blueberries. Bon Appetit!

Blueberry Basil Galette

Ingredients:

3 C fresh blueberries
1 tsp sugar
2 T cornstarch
1 T lemon zest
1 T fresh lemon juice
1/4 tsp cinnamon
1/4 tsp salt

1/2 C sugar
1 tsp sugar (additional)
1 refrigerated pie crust
1/4 to 1/2 C fresh chopped basil*
1 T cold butter, cut into pieces
1 egg, beaten
lemon zest (for garnish) optional

Directions:

Preheat oven to 425° and line a baking sheet with parchment paper.

In a large bowl, stir together blueberries, cornstarch, lemon zest and juice, 1/2 cup sugar, cinnamon, and salt until combined. Fold in the chopped basil.

Unwrap the pie crust and unfold onto lined baking sheet. Spoon the berry mixture into the center of the dough, leaving a two inch border.

Fold the edge of dough over the berries, pleating as you go. Dot butter over the berries, brush the pastry with the beaten egg and sprinkle with the remaining sugar.

Bake for 25-30 minutes until bubbling. Garnish with lemon zest, if desired.

* Dried basil will not work in this recipe
